NEWS ITEMS OF INTEREST.

There are said to be at this moment more editors in than out of prison in Russia.

The railroad to the top of Mt. Vesuvius is now completed, and its formal inauguration will take place this month.

The bright red of this season's fashions has reached Texas, where steers run wild, and fierce encounters between belted and bulled are common.

America has now nearly one hundred varieties of native grapes under cultivation, and more than eight hundred varieties of pears.

The gold fever is spreading in Georgia, especially in White county, where ore is found in nuggets. One weighing 106 pennyweights has been obtained.

Two girls at a Cincinnati boarding school, though of wealthy and reputable parentage, stole $70 worth of books from the library, sold them for $15, and spent the money for candy.

Old Bull, now living at Cambridge, has imported four Norwegian ponies, the only ones in this country, one of which, a handsome stallion, is valued at $2,000, and the others at $1,000 each.

An Iowa clergyman has resigned from the ministry on account of his eyes. He can see well enough with them, but they are so grotesquely crossed that he thinks they destroy his usefulness in the pulpit.

It was shown at a late meeting of the Jockey Club that while the incomes of Archer and other of the leading jockeys amount to many thousands of pounds a year, there are scores of others in the craft who cannot obtain a living.

In a recent letter from Garibaldi to Baron Swift, the president of the society of Atheists at Venice, occurs this paragraph: "I wish that Italians would understand that the atheism we profess is synonymous with freedom, reason and science, and that its aim is to destroy the worst of human plagues—clericalism."

Spiders His Only Companions

On the outskirts of New Orleans lives an old man whose only companions are spiders of every shape and hue. He has never attempted an accurate census, but he believes that there are five or six hundred of them, and the ceilings of his two rooms are completely hidden by the webs they have spun. For the most part these strange pets make their own living, but occasionally the old man throws a handful of flies into the meshes of the innumerable webs and delights to see the spiders glide along the gossamer and seize their struggling victims.

A Stepmother's Terrible Punishment

Mrs. Wilkins of Oxford, N. C., had three children of her own and was stepmother to a boy. The latter annoyed her by stealing eatables from the pantry, and she tried in vain to prevent his depredations. She looked the faintest of the food in a chest, and he opened it with a skeleton key. Finally she poisoned some cake, put it in a closet, and went away for a day's visit. On her return, instead of finding that the boy was dead, she saw the remains of two of her children who had been killed by the poison.

The Sierraville stage still goes from Reno by way of the Junction, owing to the snow between Truckee and Sierra Valley.

Since the appreciation in stocks travel to Leadville has considerably fallen off. Very few tickets to that point are sold here now.

There is excellent dove shooting in this vicinity. C. A. Williams shot 23 in three hours yesterday afternoon in a field below the English mill.

An old sign-board lying on a heap of lumber at the railroad station reads: "Poeville Hotel." It suggests the transitory nature of mining camps.

Henry C. Waddell this morning pleaded guilty to stealing one of J. Steiner's milk cans from Capt. Bragg's premises, and was sentenced to ten days.

The removal of Knust & Jones' stock to Sunderland's building commenced this morning. Blakely will move into his new store early next week.

The Reno Paralyzers have received an invitation from a Carson base ball club to play a game with them. No match has yet been arranged.

The two base ball clubs are harrowing and rolling their grounds on the other side of the river to-day. They intend to have as good a field as there is in the state.

A small frame building that has been used for storage purposes by Knust & Jones, was to-day removed from the rear of their store to the corner of Lincoln avenue.

The dance at Pyramid commenced early last evening and was kept up until 5 o'clock this morning. The influence of the ardent pervaded the whole camp and everybody was hilarious.

Hank Robinson of Loyalton, is loading 10,000 pounds of freight for Candelaria. He gets two and one-half cents. Phi Bates will load 30,000 pounds for Alturas next week, at three cents.

The Washoe delegates to the Democratic Convention to be held at Winnemucca to-morrow will leave to-night. J. C. Hagerman, F. Lemmons and D. McFarland will go. The others have not been heard from.

Phi Bates has some Egyptian corn which he is going to plant. It requires very little water. It may be that it would thrive in the valleys hereabouts and be a profitable plant.

Mrs. Huyek has a nice room to let.

LEADVILLE LETTER.

A Reno Man's Wanderings in Colorado—New Mining Camps—Sagunee Expectations—Some Account of Places Visited.

From our own Correspondent.

LEADVILLE, Col., May 20, 1890.

Your readers I have no doubt imagine I have been lost, not having heard from me for a long time. Well, after the roughest trip I ever experienced in my life, I have made my way once more to the great camp of Leadville. After leaving here the last time I went over the Sagunee road to Gunnison City, the great central supply point of the Gunnison country. This town is situated at the junction of the Gunnison and Tumichi rivers, in a good valley admirably adapted for grazing and raising hay. The altitude is about 8,500 feet. The location has been a trading post for the Utes for many years. At present people are rushing in by the thousands, remaining a few days and rushing out again. The town is laid out in wide streets, regular squares and blocks. In all about 250 houses have been erected, all small buildings very poorly constructed and almost unfinished. Lumber is an article almost impossible to obtain. While no business seems overdone, there appears no opening for more enterprise, unless it be a saw mill and restaurants. Saloons are

THE PREDOMINATING FEATURE, and although none are finished they all seem to make a living. After leaving Gunnison City I started for Ruby. It is thirty miles from Gunnison City, up the river to the confluence of Ohio Creek to its very source, which is but three miles from Ruby. I had a dray to travel on for about 15 miles to a place called Warmley's, and from there I walked to a place called Ring's Ranch, through slush and snow between three and four feet deep. Then I had five miles of snow-shoeing to reach the long looked for camp. There are three town sites surveyed in this district. They are Ruby City, Irwin and Ruby Camp. Ruby City was formerly known as Silver Gate, and is a town site lately located by several gentlemen from Leadville. Not so much as a cabin as yet meets the eye. Irwin City is just one mile above, to the west. There you will find about ten cabins, nearly invisible on account of the snow. You have a small foot trail to follow from one cabin to another. The few people you find here speak

IN GREAT HOPES of their camp. They will tell you they will have 10,000 people by the 1st of July. About 400 locations have been made upon the mountain side. The best one is the Forest Queen. The ore is of the galena character, white spar being attached in several places. It assays seventy ounces of silver and fourteen ounces of gold to the ton. They have a five foot fissure vein. The second is the Ruby C. Lead Chief. Little Minnie and several others are rated as first-class mines. Lots are rated here from $100 to $1,500. The next place is Ruby Camp, lying about one mile east of Irwin. There you will find two cabins with several mining locations. The people living there will also tell you they will have another Leadville before the 1st of July. From Ruby I started for Crested Butte. Crested Butte is about the same distance from Gunnison City as Ruby. It is on Slate river, a branch of East river, which joins the Gunnison about fifteen miles below the Buttes. A large smelter is already erected to work the ore from Ruby district. They have a fine coal field here, and I have no doubt but it will be a promising camp this summer. At present there are between five and six feet of snow here. From the Buttes I started to a place named Gothic, lying six miles to the north. I had to travel over the whole route on snow shoes. A small smelter has been put up there and they claim to have several good mining locations, but it was impossible to see them on account of the snow. From here I started for the Roaring Fork country, the present spring excitement of Colorado, of which I will try and give you a description in my next letter. WREL.

Agent Wanted.

Samuel Carson, 120 Sutter street, San Francisco, wants a good agent for Petroleum V. Nasby's history of Andersonville. This is one of the most striking books of the year. The writer is a man of power, and the prison pen abounded with scenes and incidents of thrilling interest. There is no need of resorting to fiction to supply adventure. The bare truth was too terrible for even the pencil of a Hogarth.

Grasshoppers Rampant.

Grasshoppers have appeared in multitudes in some portions of the valley between Reno and Steamboat. They have already destroyed four acres of young wheat on William Wright's ranch near Brown's, and have done some damage on Steve Ede's. The insects are very numerous in places on Henry Whistler's ranch.

THE SANTA CRUZ HORROR.

Condition of the Wounded—Coroner's Inquest—Another Death—Different Theories as to the Cause of the Accident.

SANTA CRUZ, May 25.—The wounded by the disaster of Sunday are getting along as well as could be expected. The representatives here of the railroad company have given orders for every patient to be supplied with nurses and everything required to relieve their sufferings.

President Davis and Mr. Adams, attorney for the company, are here looking after the latter's interests in the Coroner's inquiry, which will be resumed to-day or to-morrow.

There appears to be quite a difference of opinion among the citizens as to whether the company is to blame for the accident. One person who was on the train thinks the accident was caused by the overloading of the cars, there being, he thinks, about 100 persons on each. Owing to the narrowness of the gauge the cars were rendered top-heavy. Another gentleman, an old railroad man, thinks the train was going too fast, but he found that the brakeman had all the brakes on and had done his best to check its speed even before the whistle of alarm was given.

Gallagher, of San Jose, died last night, but the others are getting along.

The bodies of most of those who were killed outright have been taken charge of by friends and relatives and removed.

The deep gloom which has pervaded the community since the accident has not yet been dissipated, and it will be several days before the town can assume its wonted appearance.

A Child Badly Burned.

About 7 o'clock last evening little Estelle Cahn, a five-year-old child of Samuel Cahn, was playing on Second street with her cousin, a boy of about her own age. He was twirling about a piece of lighted rope, when the burning end set fire to Estelle's apron. Her clothes were blazing in a moment. Most fortunately, Mr. Campbell happened to be passing at the time and his prompt action no doubt saved the child's life. As soon as he saw the flames he ran and enveloped Estelle with his coat, smothering the fire. The child's apron was completely consumed and also a portion of the woolen dress she wore. Her face was scorched and her hair singed, but it is not likely that any permanent disfigurement will result. The left arm was badly burned in places. The little creature was very philosophical over the accident, in spite of the intense pain of her burns, saying while her injuries were being dressed: "It was lucky I wasn't killed, wasn't it?" She is not at all dangerously hurt, and will soon be able to be about again.

A Nuisance on Foot.

Tom Rogers seems to be one of the most complete imbeciles on record. He is too cowardly to be a criminal, and too lazy to be even a thief, but he is a most persistent nuisance. He was found this morning at one o'clock in Mrs. Caldwell's kitchen, lighting matches and trying to kindle a fire. Mrs. C. thought it was her son or Abe Hartley and asked what he wanted. Tom muttered that he wanted a match to light a fire. Mrs. Caldwell called her son, who promptly fired the intruder out. It does no good to abuse such poor creatures as this, and no violence should be used, but the authorities ought to abate the nuisance. Such a man is liable to burn the town any night. He should be put in the poor house or else in jail and kept away from decent people.

Fire Map of Reno.

J. M. Betts, surveyor for the Sanborn Map and Publishing Co., is in Reno making surveys for an underwriters' map of the town. He has been engaged on the work about four days and will be here a few days longer. Hence he goes to Virginia. D. A. Bender & Co. recently had such a map prepared for themselves, as a matter of private enterprise. These fire maps enable an insurance agent to determine at a glance the nature of the risk to be covered. Each square in a place and every building in it is represented. The character of each risk is represented by the color of its location on the map.

An Opening for a Preacher.

Aurora appears to be a good sort of a field for a preacher. The Herald explains what is wanted, in this way: We are sorely in need of a preacher, we don't want any cheap trash. We want a good, muscular Christian, who can snatch sinners by the scruff of the neck and drag them howling up the plane of righteousness; one who will not drink more than he can hold, and one who will not copy after Beecher further than to steal his sermons. Such a man will get a right smart lay-out here. If he can play the fiddle for the regular weekly dance it will augment his salary somewhat.

The Sale of Pictures To-Night.

Let every housekeeper and lover of fine art attend the auction sale of fine oil paintings this evening at Reform Club hall. Such an opportunity to secure real works of art, paintings from the best San Francisco artists, was never before offered; and such a sale of meritorious works should be well attended by our best citizens. Every painting on exhibition will be sold. Special attention is called to several new paintings on exhibition to-day.

THE BODIE ROAD.

Work to be Commenced on Monday Next at the Mound House.

The grading of the new narrow gauge railroad to Bodie will be commenced at the Mound House on Monday next. A force of 300 men will begin to work and more will be added from time to time. The pay will be $3 per day without board. Robert Laws, late of the C. P. road, has been employed as Superintendent of construction. There is but little grading to be done on the route. The most of it will be between Mound House and Dayton. But there are many miles which will require scarcely any grading. A number of new towns are likely to spring up along the line of the road.

Personal.

Miss Emma Crocker, a Reno lady, is seriously ill in Oakland.

I. D. Cross, Sr., after three years of Oakland, has returned to live in Reno. Gov. Kinkaid and wife went east last night.

C. Knust is in San Francisco, purchasing new goods. He will return Saturday morning.

General B. F. Butler and party of eight in a special car, left Chicago for San Francisco yesterday.

M. D. Levy's late partner, Mr. Michael, is now doing business in Bodie. He arrived in Reno yesterday and will stop long enough to see all his old friends.

W. L. Bryant, postal route agent on the V. & T., has been transferred to the steamship route between Victoria and Olympia. Mr. Kimball of the postal service exchanges places with him.

Delegates to the Winnemucca Convention arrived on the V. & T. train last night and took the overland train. Among them were Matt Canavan, John Mahanny and Col. Pete Cavanaugh.

Really Good Pictures.

The pictures on exhibition at Reform Club Hall are most of them good. It is not often that people here have an opportunity of seeing a Hill or De Haas, much less of buying them at their own price. The announcement was recently made that Hill was moving to the Atlantic coast, and that he was sacrificing his pictures rather than move them there. He has placed some in the hands of these parties to be sold regardless of the figures. Other artists are in the same boat. Hence this sale.

A Great Convenience.

J. L. McFarlin has just finished a handsome, light delivery wagon for McClelland and Simpson. It will be put into use to-morrow morning. The firm propose to serve their customers every morning with fresh fruit, vegetables and fish. The best and freshest that the market affords in those lines can be selected from the wagon at one's door. This will prove a great convenience to housekeepers, and should add greatly to the business of McClelland & Simpson.

M. E. Fair and Concert.

The Methodist Fair will open at the Pavilion on Tuesday next, June 1, and will last three days. On the evening of the fourth, Rev. C. V. McKelvey will be given a benefit concert. It will be a good entertainment, and the reverend gentleman's host of friends will see that it proves a success.
